About Reclaim Childhood

Reclaim Childhood (RC) is a nonprofit working in Jordan with the mission to create safe and inclusive spaces for local and refugee girls to thrive by playing sports, working with coaches, and building community. Founded in 2008, RC runs after school sports programs, summer camp, and teen leadership programs, reaching hundreds of underserved girls throughout the year.

We work towards our mission in three ways: First, to provide a safe space where girls can “Reclaim Childhood” and just be kids. Second, to connect communities that otherwise may not interact – local Jordanians and refugees alike. Third, to empower and inspire young women through the positive impact of sport and play. We believe in the power of sports to teach unique life lessons such as leadership, confidence building, and teamwork while providing strong female role models as coaches from within the local communities.

About the Junior Board

The Junior Board is a group of dynamic young professionals who support Reclaim Childhood through fundraising, network building, and special projects. Join an inspiring team working to advance the mission of RC, while learning more about the governance, leadership, and operations of a small NGO.

Passionate about access to sport for girls, gender equality, and/or addressing the global displacement crisis, and looking to make a big impact for a small organization? To apply, please fill out this form by September 22nd. Applicants are encouraged to apply ahead of the deadline.
